Republicans Receive Only
25 Per Cent of 1928
Contributions

DEMOS. OFF, TOO
National Committees Report Low Funds

COLUMBUS, Nov. 1.—Due to shrunken contributions the cost of the Republican and Democratic election campaign in Ohio has been pared to the bone a checkup by International News Service revealed today.

Not more than $30,000 has been spent in connection with the operation of Republican state headquarters where contributions have fallen off about 75 percent, it was revealed. Four years ago the Republicans expended approximately $150,000 in conducting their election campaign.

LESS THAN HALF Democratic campaign collections to date total about $40,000 as against the $100,000 spent by the party in Ohio four years ago according to Robert Hays, treasurer at the state headquarters.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—Both major parties are finding the going lean during the 1932 campaign as compared with the more prosperous times of 1928, according to reports just filed with South Trimble, clerk of the House of Representatives.

The reports show that the Re-

HUNT MISSING BOY ON FREIGHT TRAINS

CLEVELAND, Nov. 1.—Furn-regarding the possible fate of whereabouts of the missing lad, police officials today enlisted the aid of railroad authorities of western lines in the widespread hunt for eight-year-old Ebert Holleron, missing from his home for 10 days.

The theory that the boy had vanished in the company of a tramp probably in the search of adventure, was expressed after police were informed that the description of a dirty youngster who climbed down from a freight train to beg food at a Lorain home a week ago last Sunday matched that of the missing Holleron boy.

NEVADA'S HOLIDAY

RENO, Nev., Nov. 1.—Nevada business "holiday."

Acting on "the conviction that

Gov. Morley Griswold last night declared the "holiday," extending until November 12.

Griswold is heading the state government in the absence of Gov.
Fred Balzar, who is in Washington, D. C., to negotiate with the Reconstruction Finance Corporation for loans for Nevada business houses.

Following Griswold's action,
George Wingfield, Nevada capital-banks of which he is president would take advantage of the "holiday." Four of the Wingfield

He predicted that beer would be legal by next June. Making an allusion to the famous "fourteen

Toledo and Cincinnati but that in the smaller, drier sections he does not mention this issue. This is a problem which confronts every citizen of the state, regardless of the community in which he lives and I am traveling over the state

"HOOVER EVADES ISSUES" -- FRANK "DEMS DESTRUCTIVE" -- HOOVER

President Injures Office, Democrat Says, In Using Personalities

ROYALLY WELCOMED

"Nation Wants to Make Things Better"

BOSTON, Nov. 1.—More confident than ever that the industrial northeast is lined up solidly behind the Democratic national ticket, and having indicted President Hoover on a charge of injuring his high office by resorting to personalities, Governor Franklin D.
Roosevelt today turned his campaign to Rhode Island and Connecticut.

Heartened by the enthusiastic receptions accorded him in the normally rock-ribbed Republican states of Maine, New Hampshire and Massachusetts, the Democratic presidential nominee is returning to New York in "fighting trim" for the final drive of the campaign.

A 300-mile motor trip today will carry him through Providence, Woonsocket, Worcester, Springfield, and Hartford, and back to his country home at Hyde Park.
Despite the pleas of party leaders the governor ruled against any speeches today.

CHARGES THREATS

From the same platform in this city where Al Smith recently pleaded for his election, Governor Roosevelt lashed out at President Hoover, accusing him of "misstatements, threats and intimadation."

Almost before the president had finished his speech in New York city, Governor Roosevelt was answering him before 15,000 wildly cheering men and women in the Boston arena. Revealing that he had listened to a part of the president's New York address before going to the arena, Governor Roosevelt said:

"Once more the President warned against a new deal on the ground that it would change fundamental principles. My new deal is aimed not to change these fundamental principles but to put them into effect."

Again hitting at President
Hoover for saying that things
"might have been worse," Governor Roosevelt pledged himself, if elected, "to make things better."

NATION IS READY

"The nation has the capacity to make things better," he added.
"The nation wants to make things better. The nation prays for the leadership of action to make things better. That will be shown in every state next Tuesday. We are through with 'delay'—through with 'despair'—ready and waiting for better days."

Governor Roosevelt said the chief problems facing the country today are to meet the immediate distress by seeing to it that no one is permitted to starve, and to build upon a permanent basis to guard

Methods of Obtaining Site For Post Office is Told in Detail

Bids For Local Job Open Nov. 28

The methods of the government in obtaining a site for a federal building are outlined in the following detailed statement provided by the Department of the Interior.

Proposals for the site here will be opened Nov. 28 in Washington.

Upon the enactment of a law authorizing the acquisition of a site for a Federal building the Treasury Department invites, through the local newspaper, proposals for the sale or donation of land suitable for the purpose.

The offers are opened in Washington at the time stated in the advertisement, and as soon thereafter as practicable an agent of the department is sent to make a personal examination of the proposed locations and such others as he deems desirable, and to investigate the reasonableness of the prices placed on the properties as compared with recent sales of real estate in that vicinity.

SITE SELECTED

Based on the agent's report, together with written representations from other sources, the department selects the site and, if the property is to be acquired by purchase, accepts the offer of the potential bidder, subject to the conditions hereinafter stated, and the Attorney General's approval of the title. No intermediary between the landowner and the Government is necessary. While it is advantageous to all concerned to have proposals submitted at the date fixed in the advertisement, in those cases where it is impracticable to submit an offer, the potential bidder will be given consideration if received before the department makes its selection.

Whenever the department is unable to secure from the owner a proposal to sell the site desired (or any part thereof) for a reasonable price, a resort may be had to condemnation proceedings to ascertain the value of the property. If the price is satisfactory, the award is confirmed and payment made. If the damages are deemed excessive, however, the proceedings are dismissed and some other location is taken under consideration.

Where an acceptable title to the site selected (or any part thereof) can be secured by voluntary conveyance, an agreement may be reached with the owners as to the price to be paid and the title condemned under a consent verdict fixing the award at the agreed valuation. When condemnation is necessitated by the condition of the title, it is customary for the owner to pay the costs thereof. Besides the usual surface surveys and the abstracts, evidences of title, etc., required by the Attorney General.

"CLEARING SITE"

"Clearing the site" includes the removal therefrom of all buildings, foundations, or other improvements (except retaining walls and walls supporting sidewalks), and all tracks, poles and wires (overhead or underground); the abandonment of all gas, water, and heating pipes, ducts, etc., conduits, ditches, and sewers crossing the site, together with the satisfactory plugging of the ends thereof at the lot lines (unless the requirement for the discontinuance of any such pipes, ducts, conduits, or sewers is expressly waived by the department); the safely covering over, or raising off, of any open wells, cisterns, excavations, etc., on such site, and the taking away of all debris resulting from such removal, and the leaving of the land clean; all without expense to the United States and to the satisfaction of the custodian of the site to be hereafter appointed.

There is frequently a large volume of site business before the department, and while such work receives unrelenting attention until finished, it is not always practicable to dispose of a particular case as speedily as desired by the parties interested. Bidders are at liberty in case of failure of the department to make a selection within a reasonable time to withdraw their proposals, but will be expected by the department to give notice of such intention.

When the department has selected a site, such action is final unless the vendor fails to perform the conditions of the contract with him or (in case of condemnation) the property can not be acquired at a price the department would feel justified in paying. When once the title to a site is vested in the United States, a new act of Congress would be necessary to es-able the department to change to some other location.

Plans for public buildings are taken up in the order in which the titles to the sites therefor are vested in the United States, and the contracts for their construction are let at as early a date as practicable.

PROPOSALS

No special form of proposal is required or provided, but the offer (and any accompanying documents) must be typewritten (on letter-size paper), addressed to the Secretary of the Treasury, in care of the Supervising Architect, and should indicate definitely the location and dimensions of the property and the price at which it is offered. The proposal must be accompanied by a diagram, or plat, on a sheet (of tracing linen, if possible) 8 by 10 1/2 inches, on which the following data must be clearly indicated, viz:

1. The city, county, and State, and name of the owner of the site.
2. An outline map of the land offered, showing accurately its shape, grades, and the dimensions in feet and inches of each side, counting only clear building space, exclusive of all sidewalks or any other decrease. (If the lands occupied by the sidewalks are not owned by the city, that fact must be stated. Also, proponents should be careful in stating the dimensions of their properties. The later discovery of a material shortage might be deemed sufficient cause for annulling an acceptance of a site, or for requiring a proportionate deduction from the price therefor to offset such shortage in area.)

3. The names and widths (from lot line to lot line) of adjacent streets, including widths of sidewalks, and widths of roadway between curbs, and whether or not paved and the character of the paving.
4. The widths and locations of adjacent alleys, and whether public or private, paved or unpaved, and open or to be officially opened.

5. The approximate locations (in adjacent streets or alleys) of gas, water, and heating mains (noting the kind as gas and heat); conduits or overhead wires for poles; sewers with their depth below street levels and their diameters; and whether sanitary or storm-water sewers, or both, and if public or private.

6. If no sewers are in adjacent streets, a statement from the city engineer must be secured and attached to the plat showing the distance from the property offered to the nearest sewer with which connection could be made and the fall obtainable; also, the diameter of such sewer, its depth below street level, and whether sanitary or storm-sewer, or both, and if public or private.

7. Describe any proposed improvements or facilities (such as sewers, gas, water, or electric service) adjacent to the proposed site, and state probable date of installation.

8. The plat must have indicated thereon the approximate location of any right of way, sewer, ditch, conduit, gas, steam, or water pipes, tracks, poles cables or wires, which may be upon, under, or over the property, pursuant to any easement or permit, and whether their right to be there is subject to termination.

9. The plat must show with reasonable accuracy the "north point" of the compass and in skeleton lines the locations of the buildings (if any) on the site.

10. If it is claimed that the nearest corner of the site offered is within 80 rods of the point where the mail is actually taken from the trains at the railroad station handling the bulk of the mail, the proposal must state the actual measured distance over the route usually traveled by wagons. (When the city is the terminus of such railroads, this paragraph should be ignored.)

11. If there is any body of water, or water course, adjacent to the site, the proposal must state the normal, minimum, and maximum levels of the water. If the site is exposed to freshets, state the essential facts as to conditions to be expected as shown by past experience.

12. The proposal and plat, and any accompanying papers, must be securely fastened together.

13. Bidders should indicate whether they bid as owners or agents.
14. When two or more parcels of adjacent lands are required to make a site of the required dimensions, the department prefers that the owners join in one proposal, indicating the portions of the total price to be paid for the respective interests. The plat should show the dividing lines between the several parcels offered.

15. When an owner of a part of the site desired refuses to offer his property at a reasonable price, the Government would entertain a proposal from the owner of the remainder of such site, stating a price for the whole site and undertaking that, should it be found necessary to condemn the former property, he will accept for his land whatever balance of such stated price is left after the Government pays into court the award for the condemned portion.

RESTRICTIONS

16. The proposal must describe any existing restrictions upon the use of any part of the property offered. If the property is subject to the reservation of mineral rights, that fact must be stated, and the plat made to show approximately the depth below the street level of the top, and the location and extent of any excavation or workings under the property, together with a statement of the character of the strata from the natural surface of the site down to such excavations or workings; also state whether mining operations are still going on in the immediate vicinity of the site.

TITLE PAPERS, ABSTRACTS

17. No title papers need be submitted with proposals; but if the title to the property is in such condition that conveyance thereof can not be made by deed, the facts should be briefly stated.

18. The owner of the site finally selected by the department will be advised in writing of the acceptance of his proposal, and will be required to furnish without additional cost to the United States all requisite abstracts, official certifications, deeds of conveyance, evidences of title, maps, etc., which may be necessary, in the opinion of the Attorney General, for the proper examination of the title to the property and to vest in the United States a good and valid title thereto, free and clear of all liens and incumbrances of every kind and character, including easements, leases, judgments, taxes, and assessments, accrued or incumbrances, at the date of transfer of title to the United States; and must pay the cost of bringing the abstract of title down to the date of the recording of the deed or deeds to the United States, including the notation thereon of such recordation. The deed or deeds from the grantor to the United States, unless otherwise agreed upon, will be recorded at the expense of the Government. It is not necessary to discharge liens upon the property until the transfer of the title to the Government is about to be made.

How Much Is Your Right Arm Worth?

Foolish question? Well, perhaps it is. But it is not much more foolish than the question "How much is your telephone worth?"

For after all, your telephone is the "right arm" of your home. Its value never changes. It helps your whole family in all their daily living—in all their waking moments. It influences every action of their daily life. Once you have a telephone, it becomes virtually indispensable.

And in moments of emergency, such as a fire, sudden illness or an attack by thieves, your telephone—like your right arm—is priceless. It's mighty, mighty hard to place a value on so true a servant as your telephone.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK?
by Edson R. White Shawnee, Okla.

F. B. CUNNINGHAM, ADVERTISING MANAGER OF THE TOPEKA (KANSAS) CAPITAL, SAYS:

"Mrs. Housewife, the dictator of the family budget, reads and believes in her daily newspaper. 'Do you realize that today the woman spends 85 per cent or more of the family budget? She recommends how the other 15 per cent will be spent. She buys the furnishings and supplies for the home, her clothes, and the children's clothes and needs—her husband's clothes, a goodly portion of them, if you please.

"The daily newspaper is the paper to reach the woman. Recent surveys have shown that women invariably prefer the newspaper. Local and national advertisers who are appealing to women are more and more turning to the daily newspapers—they are actually beginning to place the large bulk of their advertising appropriations in the daily newspapers. Women invariably prefer their daily newspaper because they can find a more and authentic feminine news—they can select and buy merchandise advertised almost the same day.

"The daily newspaper fulfills the needs of the average family readers, particularly the women, because she can keep abreast of the times, with world wide happenings, local and state, of this or that woman's organization, the trends of fashion, club woman's news, society news; in short, the daily newspaper is where she meets and rubs shoulders with her neighbor; it's her daily market place, her shoppers' guide in the privacy of her own home. Newspapers therefore provide the most acceptable means of catering to the home with Mrs. Housewife in a receptive mood, and, incidentally, the most economical means for any merchant of crying his wares to the masses."

Where Does She Get Her "Pep?"

SHE doesn't look seventy. Nor does she feel that old. The woman who stimulates her organs can have energy that women half her age will envy.

At middle-age your vital organs begin to slow down. You may not be sick, simply sluggish. But why endure a condition of half-health when there's a stimulant that will stir a stagnant system to new life and energy in a week's time?

This remarkable stimulant is perfectly harmless. It is, in fact, a family doctor's prescription. So, if you're tired of trying every patent medicine that comes along, tell the druggist you want a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's syrup pepsin. Take a bit of this delicious syrup every day or so, until you know by the way you feel that your lazy liver is again active, and your bowels are poison-free.

Men, women, and children who are run-down, who tire easily, get bilious spells or have frequent headaches, are soon straightened out when they get this prescriptional preparation of pure pepsin, active senna, and fresh laxative herbs. (Syrup pepsin is all the help the bowels need, and you do not form the very bad habit of always taking cathartics.)

Keep a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's syrup pepsin in the house, and take a stimulating spoonful every now and then. It is all that a great many people ever take to keep strong and vigorous, and absolutely free from constipation.

"Nature in the Raw" is seldom MILD

THE JUGGERNAUT OF THE JUNGLE

"Nature in the Raw"—as portrayed by the famous animal painter, Paul Bransom... inspired by the savage charge of the African rhinoceros crashing through the untamed jungle. "Nature in the Raw is Seldom Mild"—and raw tobaccos have no place in cigarettes.

No raw tobaccos in Luckies —that's why they're so mild

WE buy the finest, the very finest tobaccos in all the world—but that does not explain why folks everywhere regard Lucky Strike as the mildest cigarette. The fact is, we never overlook the truth that "Nature in the Raw is Seldom Mild"—so these fine tobaccos, after proper aging and mellowing, are then given the benefit of that Lucky Strike purifying process, described by the words—"It's toasted". That's why folks in every city, town and hamlet say that Luckies are such mild cigarettes.

Red Cross Valuable In Alleviating Distress

Widespread unemployment laid at the door of the American Red Cross a magnitude and degree of distress unprecedented in 51 years of man's history to disaster victims in the United States and abroad according to Frank A. Lynch, chairman of the Circleville Chapter, who says:

The tidal wave of economic hardship extended to every class, reached from coast to coast, engulfed mine worker, farmer, merchant, laborer, "white collar" worker and professional man. No Mississippi flood, San Francisco fire, Florida hurricane or other single disaster ever equaled the damage wrought by the slow gnawing of enforced idleness. To the drying up of individual resources were added a scaring drought, a severe grasshopper plague, and a devastating tornado.

3 MILLION AIDED

"Since late 1931 more than 3,000,000 families have been given Red Cross food, clothing, medical supplies and other forms of assistance."

"Congress laid upon the official relief agency the responsibility of distributing 40,000,000 bushels of Government wheat, then 45,000,000 additional bushels. Some 3,000,000 families have received flour, the gift of the American people through their Red Cross; 154,000 families have been given cracked wheat for the feeding of their livestock."

"The national legislative body also made available for relief purposes 500,000 bales of Government cotton. This resulted in the material expansion of the production program already under way. Thousands more children and adults were supplied with clothing which would otherwise have been without sufficient protection from the weather."

"Regular Red Cross personnel handled both wheat and cotton, assisted by such technical advisers as necessary."

ALLEVIATE DISTRESS

"With relief the main order of Red Cross business through 18 months or more, the machinery of the national organization has been directed toward the alleviation of distress. Unemployment relief activities have been participated in by more than 2200 Red Cross chapters. Volunteers have engaged in relief programs with an intensity reminiscent of World War days. Long before Government cotton entered the picture, production units were engaged in making and renovating clothing. Typical of these was the Albany Chapter, which, with the cooperation of other local agencies, set up a workshop and distribution center for renovated shoes and clothing. Every day 50 and 75 men, women and children were dressed or shod, 30 seamstresses and a cobbler given employment."

"In line with another extensive form of relief were two skin-milk stations operated by the Rensselaer County chapter in Troy, New York. The skin milk, donated by a large dairy was given away at the rate of 380 quarts a day."

"In Detroit tons of oil-soaked bedding from factories were donated and used for resoling shoes. Several hundred yards of donated automobile upholstery material were made into boys' trousers, girls' coats and skirts; tailors in need of work were employed for cutting and fitting. Twenty-five hundred layettes were provided and many new garments for school children not on the regular welfare lists."

"The foregoing are representative of reports from all parts of the country, indicative of the variety and resourcefulness of relief measures. Many chapters record extensive work being done by canteen workers and members of Red Cross public health nurses and teachers of home hygiene were the valued allies of physicians and health authorities. They helped hold in check diseases induced by malnutrition."

"Powdered yeast, accepted specific against pellagra was distributed to the amount of 113,000 pounds. Red Cross garden seed to an aggregate of 1,400,000 pounds during the Spring of 1932 served importantly in solving immediate economic difficulties, in safeguarding against illness resulting from unbalanced diet and in maintaining the spirit of self-help. This was the third large distribution in the last 18 months."

"Service to veterans and to men now in army, navy and marine corps was conducted with the emphasis of home relief."

"Relief activities like all Red Cross services receive their chief support and stimulus from annual memberships. The Roll Call this year opens Nov. 11 to 24."

HOOVER

frustrated at times by the Democrats in Congress, but in the main successful.

"To enter," he said, "upon a series of deep changes, to embark upon this intricate new deal which has been propounded in this campaign, would be to undermine and destroy our American system."

Mr. Hoover went back into his 1928 scrapbook to elaborate upon the benefits which have accrued to the people through the operation of the American system. He repeated the figures used in his 1928 speeches—that "we have built 15,000,000 new and better homes; we have equipped 20,000,000 homes with electricity; we have installed 20,000,000 telephones; 12,000,000 automobiles and the service of 20,000,000 automobiles."

"And," he said, "with the enlargement of our leisure we have come to a fuller life."

Shall the system which has proved all these things, he asked, be discarded now, "because vote-seeking men appeal to distress?"

There were cries of "no, no" from the audience in response to this question.

GIVES 8 POINTS

In substantiation of his charge that Democrats "were destructive," Mr. Hoover cited eight points:

1. That they (the Democrats) proposed to "raid the treasury" for the benefit of sections and groups.

2. That they proposed to inflate currency.

3. That they proposed to "put the government into the personal banking business."

4. That they proposed to reduce the Hawley-Smoot tariff rates and substitute therefore "a competitive tariff for revenue."

5. That they plan to put the government "into the power business."

6. That they have promised jobs to all unemployed. This accusation was based upon a letter of Governor Roosevelt in which he said that he "would support measures for the inauguration of water resources, flood control, land reclamation, to provide for all surplus labor at all times."

7. That they propose to make the United States supreme court a partisan institution.

8. That the Democrats are preaching "a gospel of despair" concerning the future of America industrially.

AID BLIND IN AUSTRIA

VIENNA—Rufus G. Mather and his wife, Mrs. Winifred Holt Mather, of New York City, have established a "Lighthouse Society" in Austria for the education and care of the blind and for the spread of information to prevent blindness especially at birth. A fund of about $150,000 has already been subscribed to carry on the work.

REVIVE BARTER TRADING

BOSTON—Revival of old time barter trading with the natives of Africa's West Coast is in the making. C. Nelson Rogers, president of the West African Trading Company, has announced that the old iron bark Carolumus will leave on Nov. 12 for the Canary Islands and West Coast of Africa, where American goods will be exchanged for domestic products.

The fault in education is that it spoils many a promising rabbit in fruitless effort to make it a successful fox.

publican party is trying to wrest victory at the polls on receipts to date of $1,478,791. In 1928 it had $4,911,744 to do the work.

An even greater falling off is being experienced by the Democratic party which has received only $1,065,654. In 1928 it had a "bankroll" of $5,088,933.

The reports are for slightly varying periods. The Republican National Committee in both years report for the period from Sept. 1 to Oct. 26. The Democratic National Committee's report covered the bulk of the fund raising and spending period.

BOTH FALL SHORT

In 1928 the Republican contributions totaled $770,465 in the few days between its pre-election report and election day. The Democratic party received $1,323,894 just before election. Neither national committee, of course, expects to receive anything like this amount in 1932.

To elect Mr. Hoover in 1928, his party spent $4,744,361 while to date it has spent only $1,454,179 to obtain his re-election.

Alfred E. Smith's campaign for the corresponding period in 1928 cost $4,008,923 while his successor as the party standard bearer, Franklin D. Roosevelt, has had only $926,208 expended in his behalf.

Nobel Winner

FROM DEATH TO COLLEGE

PORTSMOUTH, O.—"Death Alley" is a poor name for even a byway, residents of the little street here which always has been referred to as "death alley" have agreed. Hence, they erected a large enamel sign on the corner of the alley, re-christening it "College Avenue."

Errant Educator in Durance

Elliot B. Thomas, school superintendent of Redondo Beach, Cal., is shown in jail at Los Angeles, after he had confessed the theft of $8,000 in school funds. Thomas was sought after his office had apparently been ransacked by burglars. It was believed that the educator had been kidnapped, but he was discovered in Seattle, Wash., where he was about to marry Sylvia Wilson (inset), who knew him as "E. T. Sherwood."

Thomas has a wife and child in Redondo Beach.

ROOSEVELT

against a recurrence of present conditions.

After taking a firm stand for a sterner working week, the nominee said:

"But there is one final objective to my policy which is more vital, more basic than all else. I seek to restore the purchasing power of the nation. That and that only will put people back to work."

Pointing out that both branches of the national government—executive and legislative—must cooperate if the nation is to be guided back on the road to prosperity, Governor Roosevelt pictured President Hoover as an executive who is forever quarreling with Congress.

"He quarreled with a Republican Congress and with a half a Republican Congress," Roosevelt said. "He will quarrel with any kind of Congress. He cannot get things done."

CLOSED THE DOOR

Warning against the "false statements of my opponents," the Governor said he favored continued protection for American industry as well as for American agriculture. Asserting that the President does not favor a program of "any kind," Roosevelt added:

"He has closed the door of hope to American agriculture and when he did that he closed the door of hope to industry."

Reiterating his charge that President Hoover had done nothing for a long time after the depression began, to restore the country to a prosperous condition, the Governor accused him of encouraging speculation and "intensifying the forces that made for depressions."

"I repeat that charge because it is true," Roosevelt said, and the crowd howled its approval.

Declaring that the whole program of the present Republican administration at Washington has been directed only to prevent a further slipping down hill of American industry, the Governor said that therein lies the difference between the leadership of the two major political parties.

Mrs. Orion King and Mrs. Glenn Nickerson will leave Wednesday for Cleveland for a few weeks' visit. Mrs. King will visit with Mr. and Mrs. Milton Cayce and Mrs. Nickerson will be the guest of Mrs. Minnie Nickerson.

BIBLE CLASS HAS HALLOWEEN PARTY

In the weird light of jack-o-lanterns, comic and grotesque figures pranced and paraded last evening in the grand march at the Halloween party sponsored by the Shining Light Bible Class of the United Brethren church. Prizes were given to those under twelve for being the best masked. Betty Ann Bostwick, Bobby Lee Camp, Jackie Slimson and Rosemary Jenkins.

Those of the adult group who were pronounced by the judges the most characteristic were Mrs. Illey Greeno, Mrs. Ruth Pettit, Gladys Camp, Mary Bartholmew, and Mrs. Skinner. Pretty prizes were awarded the best of this group.

After the march there was another parade, a band in which every known instrument was played.

ed was led by Polly Jane Kerns as drum major.

Mrs. Pearl Neuding had charge of an interesting and unique program. The first number was announced as a "surprise," guesses were to be made to tell the identity of a masked figure, playing a piano solo. Jack White guessed the masked figure, who was Mrs. Ralph Long.

A duet, "Whispering Hope" was sung by Misses Eleanor Vandervort and Rosemary Neuding. A pantomime, "When You Were Young Maggie" was enacted by Mrs. Maggie Morris while the tune was softly played and sung by Mrs. Bessie Price and Ross Kirkpatrick.

A neatly number followed, Mrs. C. O. Kerns and Mrs. Illey Greeno dressed as old fashioned ladies sang "Silver Threads Among the Gold" and the "Old Grey Bonnet," after which they made a bow and turned their backs and instead of two colored mummies greeted the audience sang "Old Black Joe." This was followed by a monologue, "Mandy at the Wedding" given by Mrs. Fannie Greeno in costume.

Mrs. A. H. Morris gave a recitation, "The Telephone Girl." The remainder of the evening was spent in contests and games in which all participated.

At a late hour refreshments were served and another happy evening was brought to a close.

'Round The Town

NEWS OF HOMES AND HOME FOLKS

VOL. 3, NO. 43.

Published by STEVENSON'S

Tuesday, November 1, 1932

On May 17th, 1932, the good ship "Grecian" with a cargo of freight, was sunk off the coast of R. I. A salvage company rescued some of the freight about the last of August. Included in the freight that had upon the ocean bottom—14 salt water for some three months—were some TUSCANY domestic Oriental rugs. The purchaser of one of these salvaged rugs wrote the manufacturer that after she had purchased the rug it was washed in fresh water and that, after the rug had been in salt water for three months, the colors were as good as when it was new.

We happened to see a copy of the letter that related this story and as we are stocking the TUSCANY domestic Oriental rug, we thought that we would tell you about it. This beautiful rug, in the 6x12 size, sells for only $41.35. Drop in and see the beautiful colors and patterns.

Estate Heatrolas sell themselves! One day last week, lady from London—our neighboring city—dropped into our store and told us that she had seen the Heatrolas that we sold. "me time ago to Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Hatt, Amanda, and that she wanted one. She learned from the Hatts that Estate Heatrolas give satisfactory service. As London is too far for us to make a delivery profitably, we advised her to see her local distributor. The Hatt family should know the Heatrolas as they have had one in their home for the past six winters and one in their grocery for the past three. They tell you that you'll not make a mistake buying one of them."

Boy oh boy, but we received some beautiful desk chairs the other day. Why not have one laid away now for mother's or sister's Christmas? How her eyes would sparkle on Christmas morn'ing! Ladder-backs with woven seats at $10.00; Windsor type, with woven seats $7.25; Windsor with wood seat $4.25; and all made by one of the foremost chair factories.

Did you know that the prices on genuine Estate Heatrolas are no higher than on other circulating heaters? $34.75, $49.75, $74.75 and $89.75. For your money you get the genuine Heatrola with many features that you would only find on this well and favorably heated. Don't deny yourself longer the comfort and convenience of an Estate Heatrola.

Politician: "Congratulations me, dear, I was elected."
His Wife: "Honestly?"
Politician: "Why bring that up?"

How's your living room furniture? Is it comfy and cozy for the long winter evenings? Why not let us put an upholstered suite in your home? We've a beautiful and well-built three-piece 100 per cent Angora mohair suite for only $79.50. And when you sit down on the chairs or davenport, you'll think you are drifting along on a cloud. It's certainly soft and fluffy with the spring-filled cushions resting upon other springs that are supported on webbing. We dare you to come in and sit upon it. You'll hate to get up.

TIGERS MEET DELAWARE HERE FRIDAY

With only two games remaining in their schedule, Delaware here and Hillsboro there, Coach Pete Herberholz' Tigers got down to hard work today in an effort to make both contests.

Delaware will be played here Friday and a difficult tilt is expected. The Carlisle-Friday game this year that by a 6-0 score. The team is generally recognized as being strong and should test the Red and Black.

A victory over Delaware is necessary if the Tigers are going to finish the schedule with any kind of a rating. They now have won two and lost two in the C. B. L. Having turned back Westerville and Marysville and fell under Beley and Grandview. A defeat would drop the Tigers below the 500 mark in the league—and that is not at all good.

HEINLEIN IS 'BOY'

Toughboy Heinlein, stormy petrel of Delaware's basketball team, will be the marked man in the Delaware team when it appears here. Heinlein is a triple-threat man and is plenty of threat at all times. He runs, kicks and passes and is a bear-cat on the defense. To cover him properly means that the Tigers must be on their toes all through the contest.

Coach Herberholz is planning to use the same lineup which was used against Grandview a week ago. If Bud Miller is able to play it will help the Tiger chances considerably, but that is the question. Miller suffered a dislocated shoulder in practice a week ago and will be hardly able to doff his uniform.

Truax will play his tackle if Miller is unable to take part. The game, to be played on the school gridiron, is scheduled to begin at 3 p. m.

"STOP ELLISON"

A week later the Tigers will attempt to stop Jimmy Ellison and Tom Marshall, Hillsboro's backfield stars. Ellison is about the speediest back in south central Ohio while Marshall, huge negro threat, is a pile-driver in the line. The game will be played at Hillsboro.

Last year the Tigers put up a great game only to lose to the Highland-co team here.

ANDERSON IRED

NOTRE DAME, Ind., Nov. 1.—An earthquake has rocked the Notre Dame football citadel to its very foundations, but the last tremor has not yet been felt. Coach Herberholz "Hunk" Anderson warned today.

Enraged at the psychological let-down among his disciples which preceded Pittsburgh's 12 to 0 triumph last Saturday, "Hunk" precipitated the initial tremors of the quake, prying three regular players loose from their vanity berths.

Chief victim of coach's first blast was Capt. Paul Host who was "tumbled from his post at end down into the ranks of the second squad. The other two regulars who felt the fury of the second's first major shakeup of an important team were Nick Lukats and Ben Alexander.

Elevated to the demoted Capt. Host's former position was Hugh Devore. Mike Koken was awarded Lukats' assignment at left half-back and Alexander's role of center was given to Kitty Gorman.

PROTEST MUSIC BAN

PHILADELPHIA—A petition protesting the Philadelphia Orchestra Association's ban on modern music, which has been defied by Leopold Stokowski, conductor, has been signed by scores of subscribers and boxholders. Stokowski has been ordered to bar "debatable" music from his programs this season.

Expected to Star in Army-Harvard Battle

MILT SUMMERFELT, Capt.

DAN WELLS

KEN FIELDS

JACK GRADY

TOM KILDAY

The East's great football attraction this weekend will be staged at Harvard Stadium, Cambridge, where the Crimson takes on Army in their annual clash. Major Sasse's Cadets, led by Captain Milt Summerfelt, star tackle, are favored in some quarters to defeat John Harvard's gridders captained by Carl Hageman, end. Army's great backfield boasts Ken Fields, Tom Kilday and Felix Vidal while Harvard points with pride to the achievements of Jack Grady, Danny Wells and Jack Crickard. The Crimson squad won last year by a score of 14-13.

OHIO UNIVERSITY PLANNING HOMECOMING THIS WEEKEND

ATHENS, Nov. 1.—Many Circleville residents are motoring to Athens, this week-end to attend the annual Ohio University Homecoming festivities, arranged for Friday and Saturday.

Though an elaborate schedule of events has been planned, the annual gridiron classic between the Bobcats and the Wittenberg Lutherans headlines the Homecoming program. Rivalry of almost two decades will be resumed following a lapse in 1931, when Wittenberg withdrew from the Buckeye Conference. The numerous encounters between the two schools have always been hard-fought.

A high line-fire on the athletic field Friday night will pop the lid for the week-end. During the blaze, students and returning alumni will stage what is expected to be one of the largest pep sessions ever held at the university, according to students in charge. Speeches, songs, and yells will feature the event.

PROGRAM PLANNED

The annual Homecoming parade, in which fraternities and sororities will compete for four prizes, is scheduled to start Saturday morning at 10:30 o'clock. The parade, which will be the most pretentious in several years, will include the 100-piece Ohio University Band, floats entered by Greek-letter organizations, and other attractions.

A trophy is to be given to the fraternity and the sorority judged to have entered the most beautiful and the most unique floats in the procession. A fifth cup is to be given to the fraternity with the best decorated homecoming float. The judges will be announced between halves of the football game.

Gay sights will be shown returning crowds Saturday night at the annual carnival in the Men's Gymnasium. As a feature of this event the women's Athletic Association will present the initial showing of films stepped on the Ohio University team's trip to play Navy. Serenades by Beta Theta Pi and Delta Tau Delta fraternities will be given Friday and Saturday nights.

GROOM U. S. INDIANAPOLIS

PHILADELPHIA—The new 10,000-ton scout cruiser Indianapolis is having the lower part of her hull painted at the Philadelphia Navy Yard in preparation for trial run off the Maine coast about the middle of October. The $10,000,000 craft is expected to have a speed of about 32.7 knots an hour.

WHITE NAMES FARM AND HOME PROTECTIVE COMMITTEE TODAY

COLUMBUS, Nov. 1.—Governor George White today announced appointment of a statewide Farm and Home Protective Committee to set up organizations in every county for purpose of cooperating with farmers and home owners burdened with mortgages on their property maturing or past due.

"The purpose of these organizations," the Governor said, "is to bring together the mortgagor and mortgagee of property about to be foreclosed and attempt to work out some plan of refinancing whereby the property owner may continue in possession for sufficient time to work out his problem."

"I have every sympathy with the man who has worked hard for years to acquire a farm or home and now, through no fault of his own, but due solely to present economic circumstances, loses it and sees the results of a lifetime of effort wiped out. When the manufacturer, merchant or the operator of a commercial enterprise gets into financial difficulties it is the custom for his bankers and creditors to strain every effort toward refinancing or readjusting his affairs so the enterprise may be placed upon its feet rather than put out of business."

GIVE SOME ADVANTAGES

"We see strenuous efforts upon the part of agencies of the federal government to prevent failures and bankruptcies of railroads and other large enterprises. Why, as a matter of justice and right, should not a similar method be provided for the farmer or home owner about to lose his property under mortgage foreclosure?"

"To my regret I found it impossible, due to constitutional limitations to ask for legislation in the nature of an extension of time for payment of mortgages at the recent special session of the Legislature. So I am placing this plan in operation, hoping that, in many cases through cooperative effort of the owner and the mortgage holder, plans may be devised affording the farmer or home owner opportunity to work out of his difficulty."

The Governor explained that the statewide committee, serving without pay, will be the nucleus of his plan and it will designate local committees in each county. As mortgages mature or in cases where they are now past due, the owner of the property may consult the county committee and that committee will intervene with the

BELIEVE CARDS READY TO FIRE GABBY STREET

If Hornsby Makes Good As Player Manager May Stay, Maybe Not.

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—Fate is playing a grim jest upon Walter Johnson and Gabby Street, who once thrilled thousands of fans as baseball's greatest battery.

By an odd coincidence, the handwriting has appeared on the wall or both of these famous old-timers within the space of a couple of weeks. Johnson's release as manager of the Washington Senators was an unexpected blow, while the status of his former battery mate is none too secure.

Street hasn't lost his job yet. But once Rogers Hornsby, former Cardinal manager, and general manager of the Cubs, is named as the St. Louis club's manager today, practically every commentator in the country has jumped to the conclusion that Hornsby is on the way in and Gabby on the way out.

ANYTHING CAN HAPPEN

Although the odds against it are a contract for next year, it is said the St. Louis club is ready to transfer him to one of their chain store teams. Gabby was the world's championship pitcher for the Braves only a year ago and was hard-pressed to this season by a combination of injuries. But anything can happen to a man in St. Louis, as Bill McKechnie, Bill Southworth, Bob O'Farrell and even Hornsby himself can testify.

To all part of the Gabby Street may remain as manager of Hornsby's successor as a player. He isn't expected to stay long, or that for any length of time. But if Jim Bottomley, who is expected to be the other half of the new battery, could be added to the outfield and Hornsby placed in first base, this would be a potent experiment to defeat the Red Sox. The Sox could still be the best team enough to compensate for his fielding deficiencies.

If the experiment failed, the club would have to make Hornsby's manager to "break out" his salary. The whole business sounds fantastic. And it is manifestly unfair to Street, who must be doing a "pep" or at least a "pep" on his old blue pipe in Pop in these cool autumn evenings.
